

England trip 2025 - Day 11 - May 22nd

From Shuffleboard to Superheroes: Pub Games and a Marvelous Movie

Today there was no bus taking us to school, so most of us were driven by our host families or walked to school. As always, the day began with language classes. After that, we walked to the harbour and got some free time to buy some food in Tesco's or other stores.

As we all met back at the harbour, we began to walk to a place called Viva, which is a pub combined with an upstairs fun area. It was a really nice place with lots of things to do: billiards and street golf, but also more unusual activities like foot pool (a combination of football and billiards), corn hole (a sack-throwing game) and – our teachers' favourite – shuffleboard. and a big group of us enjoyed the karaoke area. We spent two hours there before we walked on to the cinema.

It was a little cinema in the inner city called New Central Cinema. There were two movies to choose from: Marvel's Thunderbolts and the new version of Lilo & Stitch. Most of us watched Thunderbolts, so we have no clue about how the Stitch film was. In our opinion (Karl and Anton), the Marvel movie was a bit boring because there was no Marvel action in it. After the cinema all the students got picked up or walked back home.
