Day 14 – Tintagel and Newquay

Today we went to Tintagel and Newquay. We started our day trip at 7:30. On our way we met a a guy who had worked for over 20 years in Finsterbergen, where our coach is from. When we arrived at Tintagel we walked to the entrance of the castle, where we got a wristband. We really enjoyed the sight oft he Atlantic Ocean and the nature. For lunch we decided to sit down on the edge of the cliffs, which turned out tob e a huge mistake, because we got attacked by seagulls. They also wanted some lunch. They stole our bottle cap and sandwiches. After that we spent some time at the beach. We fell in love with the ocean which was a wonderful experience. At the beach there was a small cave, which was quite cold but still beautiful. At 1:30 we made our way back to the coach and went to Newquay. It has got one of the most beautiful beaches in England. We got some freetime to do whatever we wanted. We personally bought some snacks for our trip to London. We also watched the waves, the blue water and the people. Later at 4:30 we all gathered and went back to our host families. In Torquay.

Eva and Paulina