

Day 7 – Eden Project – 27th April 2024

The class went to the coach in the morning as usual. After a trip of one hour and 45 minutes the students finally arrived. They could already see the „bubbles“ and everyone was excited. As they went into the park they were all blown away by the beauty of nature. Things turned out to be even better when they entered the biomes. The heat embraced them as they made their way into the rainforest. It wasn't that warm but because of the high humidity it was impossible to sweat. The mediterranean biome was not as warm as many had expected, but still very beautiful because of the plants the place could offer. The students had a great time and enjoyed the day at the Eden Project very much. They arrived happily and exhausted back in Torquay.
